

This web site was designed to allow full screen display of images so that viewers can actually examine my artworks. If I was satisfied with thumbnail sized presentations, I would have kept my old crappy web site. Do yourself a favor, look at this web site using a computer instead of your little mobile device. I am sure you will enjoy the experience much more!